South Indian Bank profit up 9% at Rs. 322 cr

Chennai, July 18: South Indian Bank reported a nearly 10% YoY increase in Q1 FY26 net profit to Rs 321.95 crore, primarily driven by a robust jump in other income.

South Indian Bank on Thursday reported a 9.46% year-on-year increase in net profit to Rs.321.95 crore for Q1FY26, aided by a jump in other income, even as interest income remained subdued. On a sequential basis, however, net profit was lower than the Rs.342.19 crore posted in Q4FY25.

Interest income grew a modest 2% year-on-year to Rs.2,362 crore, while other income jumped 47% to Rs.621.89 crore. At the same time, interest expenses rose at a faster pace of 5% to Rs.1,529 crore, resulting in a 3.83% decline in net interest income, which stood at Rs.833 crore for the quarter.

The bank's total business reached Rs.2.02 lakh crore as of June 30. Gross advances rose 8% year-on-year to Rs.89,198 crore, with housing loans leading the growth—up 66% to Rs.8,518 crore. Personal loans increased 26% to Rs.24,222 crore, while gold loans grew 7% to Rs.17,446 crore.

“During the reporting period, the Bank witnessed

PR Seshadri, MD & CEO

consistent growth across all targeted segments, with a sharp focus on acquiring quality assets in verticals such as Corporate lending, auto loans, housing loans, and gold loans,” said PR

Seshadri, MD & CEO, in a statement.

Retail deposits outpaced credit growth, rising 9.65% to Rs.1.09 lakh crore. CASA deposits grew 9.06% to Rs.36,204 crore, while NRI deposits rose 7.28% to Rs.32,293 crore. The CASA ratio remained stable at 32.06%, indicating continued challenges in mobilizing low-cost deposits.

Asset quality witnessed improvement, with gross non-performing assets (GNPA) declining 135 basis points year-on-year to 3.15%, and net NPA falling 76 basis points to 0.68%. Shares of South Indian Bank closed flat at Rs.30.71 on the NSE.

SPIHER signs MoU with R4 Consulting

Chennai, July 18: The Department of Management at St. Peter's Institute of Higher Education and Research (SPIHER) signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with R4 Consulting, Chennai on 14th July 2025. The collaboration is aimed at fostering industry-academia engagement and enhancing the employability skills of students.

The MoU focuses on providing students with structured opportunities in: Industrial Training & Visits, Internships and Placement Support, Skill Development and Capacity Building Programs.

The MoU was formally exchanged between Dr. L. Mahesh Kumar, Registrar, St. Peter's Institute of Higher Education and Research, and Mr. Rajesh Jeyachandran, Strategic Advisor, R4 Consulting. The event was graced by the presence of Major M. Venkatramanan, Dean, Faculty of Arts, Science, Commerce, and Management SPIHER. This strategic partnership reinforces SPIHER's commitment to offering students experiential learning, industry exposure, and career-oriented training in alignment with current business trends.

Easy current booking for enroute stations in Vande Bharat

Chennai, July 18: Southern Railway has implemented a significant system upgrade to facilitate hassle-free current booking for Vande Bharat Express trains at enroute stations. Effective from July 17, 2025, passengers will now be able to book available seats up to 15 minutes before the train's departure from any intermediate station.

This crucial modification in the Passenger Reservation System (PRS) aims to benefit a large number of commuters and improve the occupancy rates of the popular Vande Bharat services. Previously, the facility for current booking at enroute stations was limited, often preventing passengers from securing a seat once the train had departed its originating station, even if seats were vacant.

With the new system, any unoccupied accommodations will now be made available for current booking, offering a convenient option for last-minute travel plans. This change is particularly advantageous for those travelling between intermediate points on the Vande Bharat routes.

This pilot project is currently applicable to eight Vande Bharat Express trains originating from the Southern Railway zone:

20631 Mangaluru Central - Thiruvananthapuram Central Vande Bharat Express, 20632 Thiruvananthapuram Central -

Mangaluru Central Vande Bharat Express, 20627 Chennai Egmore - Nagercoil Vande Bharat Express, 20628 Nagercoil - Chennai Egmore Vande Bharat Express, 20642 Coimbatore - Bengaluru Cantt. Vande Bharat Express, 20646 Mangaluru Central - Madgaon Vande Bharat Express, 20671 Madurai - Bengaluru Cantt. Vande Bharat Express, 20677 Dr MGR Chennai Central - Vijayawada Vande Bharat Express

This initiative is expected to significantly enhance passenger convenience and ensure better utilization of the state-of-the-art Vande Bharat Express services across the Southern Railway network.

Kruu Partners with Illinois Tech to launch global innovation lab for students

Chennai, July 18: Kruu, a leading project-based learning platform, has partnered with the Illinois Institute of Technology (Illinois Tech) to launch the K2 Virtual Incubation Lab, a global initiative aimed at nurturing innovation and entrepreneurship among high school students.

The collaboration, formalized through an MoU, combines Kruu's expertise in experiential learning with Illinois Tech's legacy in technology and innovation education. The lab will guide students from idea to pitch, with mentorship from Illinois Tech faculty and access to its innovation ecosystem, including the Kaplan Institute and IPRO program. “The K2 Lab will empower students worldwide with real-world problem-solving skills and connect them to future-ready careers,” said Mallik Sundharam, VP at Illinois Tech. It will also support teacher training in project-based learning and offer joint certifications and opportunities for further study at Illinois Tech's global campus.

Kruu CEO Anil Srinivasan called the initiative a bold step toward reimagining education: “This is more than a partnership—it's a shared mission to inspire the next generation of changemakers.”

The K2 Lab will feature curated challenges, student showcases, and immersive workshops, building an inclusive, innovation-driven learning environment.

Himalaya unveils campaign for anti-hair fall shampoo

Chennai, July 18: Himalaya Wellness has unveiled a new integrated campaign for its Anti-Hair Fall Shampoo, highlighting the natural benefits of Bhringaraja, known as the “King of Hair.” The campaign, themed “Won't Let You Fall,” focuses on friendship and trust to convey the brand's message of safe, natural hair fall solutions.

Set in a scenic outdoor moment between two friends on a swing, the ad connects the fear of “falling” with hair fall worries, offering reassurance through Himalaya's trusted formula.

Ragini Hariharan, Marketing Director - Beauty & Personal Care, said, “Our new campaign brings the strength of Bhringaraja into the spotlight, reinforcing our commitment to natural, effective hair care solutions that consumers can trust.”

Caste and consequence: Modi's exit triggers familiar tune

It's getting warm in Delhi—not just the weather, but the political climate too. RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat recently dropped what looked suspiciously like a retirement hint aimed at Prime Minister Modi, who just turned 75. While Home Minister Amit Shah continues to insist, in his trademark foghorn style, that Modi will lead the NDA into 2029, the party's underwhelming performance in the 2024 elections suggests otherwise. The once-bold slogan of “Abki baar, 400 paar” turned into a political punch line, and now BJP clings to power thanks to two somewhat unpredictable allies.

Enter the opposition, never one to miss an opening—or a well-worn playbook. Bhagwat's nod toward Modi's political sunset has inspired a new round of the familiar “caste card” performance, now recast with a question: If not Modi, then who? And could that who is... a Dalit?

Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, ever the theatrical performer, called it a “golden opportunity” for the BJP to finally install a Dalit Prime Minister. He was responding to a challenge from Karnataka BJP President B Y Vijayendra, who, in a fine display of political theater, dared the Congress to back Mallikarjun Kharge—Dalit leader, AICC President, and an inconvenient reminder of the BJP's own representational gaps.

“Kharge didn't get where he is by playing a ‘Dalit card,’” Siddaramaiah said. “His rise is thanks to decades of integrity and public service. The Congress decides its own PM candidates—helpfully, without BJP's input.”

Siddaramaiah went further, generously offering to support a Dalit PM face from the BJP, suggesting names like Govind Karjol or Chalavadi Narayanaswamy. “If you propose one of them, I'll be the first to congratulate you,” he offered, tongue firmly in cheek. Of course, he added, BJP's track record with Dalits has been more cosmetic than consequential.

The BJP, for its part, points to symbolic wins: a tribal President in Droupadi Murmu, a now-departed Bangaru Laxman once elevated (and then spectacularly felled) as party president, and the much-repeated memory of A.P.J. Abdul Kalam. Yet, Siddaramaiah fired back: “Why hasn't Murmu ever been considered PM? And why does the current Lok Sabha not feature even one Muslim BJP MP?”

He didn't stop there. He accused Vijayendra's father, B S Yediyurappa, of politically sidelining backward class icon S Bangarappa—and now, his son. “Father and son seem to have made it a family hobby,” Siddaramaiah, rarely one to under-deliver on drama, suggested Vijayendra resign as BJP state chief and let a Dalit leader take over. “Try Karjol. I've worked with him. Unlike most of your party's tokenism, he's a decent man,” he said, with a precision cut that left little room for doubt—or rebuttal.

Will the BJP take the bait? Possibly. The party has shown remarkable agility when survival demands it. Who is to say it won't dust off a Dalit (or even Muslim !!) leader, place them on a pedestal, and declare a new era of inclusion—at least until the next election cycle?

In Indian politics, as we've learned time and again, anything is possible—except perhaps sincerity.
